

OBJECTIVES TO BE SERVED BY PLACING FDD IN OCR

1. Permit classification and storage of books and publications on a subject in one place regardless of language.
2. Provide linguistic assistance to users of reference facilities.
3. Simplify procurement of books and publications as well as inter-library relationships.
4. Make possible the establishment of a central point for all analysts wishing to use reference facilities.
5. Permit easier mutual service between FDD and other reference facilities of OCR.
6. Create a broader area in which people might develop skills and build careers.
7. Permit one senior official of the Agency to deal with all types of language-reference problems.

OBJECTIVES TO BE SERVED BY PLACING THE MAP LIBRARY IN OCR

1. Associate a library type function with the main CIA library organization.
2. Make possible the establishment of a central point to which an analyst could go for any reference material.
3. Make possible an opportunity to rationalize the procurement systems for maps, atlases, other geographic publications, and other books and publications. Geographic atlases and PPO systems might be integrated more effectively.

25X1A9a

SECRET

4. Associate organizations with common storage problems.
5. Permit easier mutual service between Map Library and other reference facilities of OGR.
6. Create a broader area in which people might develop skills and build careers.
7. Permit integration of geographic material with other material relating to an area.
8. Permit one senior official of the Agency to deal with all types of reference organizations in the U.S.